

Vancouver Board of Parks and Recreation

Healthy Local Food Field House Residencies

April 13, 2015

Visit the Park Board website at: vancouverparks.ca

Norquay Food Hub

- Led by Fresh Roots in collaboration with Renfrew-Collingwood Food Security Institute, Aboriginal Youth Canoe Club, and the Fruit Tree Project
 - Host events, celebrations, and a thriving neighbourhood food system

Strathcona Local Food Residency

- Led by Village Vancouver, 100% volunteer driven
- Workshops and events focused on producing, preserving, and preparing food
- Skill-sharing activities, food-art collaborations and food sharing

Recommendation

THAT the Park Board approve, with all arrangements to the satisfaction of the General Manager and Director of Legal Services, the following two Healthy, Local Food Residency license agreements:

A. A license agreement with Fresh Roots Urban Farm Society, effective May 1, 2015 to December 31, 2017 for the Norquay field house Healthy Local Food Residency.

B. A license agreement with Village Vancouver Transition Society from May 1, 2015 to December 31, 2017 for the Strathcona field house Healthy Local Food Residency.

