- C. THAT once the form of the lease renewal has been approved by the General Manager and the Director of Legal Services for the City of Vancouver, that the General Manager be authorized to execute and deliver such documentation on behalf of the Board.

BACKGROUND

In the late 1800s Brockton Point was the hub of sports in the Lower Mainland and a major recreation focus for Vancouver. In 1892 a cricket field and pavilion was established at Brockton Point and 10 years later almost every major sports organization was represented at the athletics grounds.

Although not the major area of sports activity that it was 100 years ago, Brockton Oval is still a popular location for cricket and rugby. Top-level cricket teams play here most evenings and weekends from May to September.

Rugby is still the sport that dominates the Oval; international games have been staged here and Lower Mainland teams that use the field have competed successfully overseas against some of the best teams in the world. Rugby is played from September to April.

The Brockton Pavilion Society has a long history of occupancy at Brockton Point in Stanley Park. The Society's members were responsible for the major fundraising efforts that resulted in the restoration and rebuilding of the clubhouse and a new lease was granted effective January 12, 1983 for five years with a five year renewal. In 1993 and 1998 the Board granted the Society five year extensions to their lease on the same conditions as their previous lease. In 2003, an updated agreement was prepared that was consistent with the City's new form of lease.

DISCUSSION

The Brockton Pavilion Society is comprised of members of the BC Mainland Cricket League (700 members), the Vancouver Rugby Union (900 men and 300 women) and the Evergreen Rugby Club (100 members). The President of the Society, Mr. Gary Greer, has written to the Board requesting an extension to their lease under the same conditions as the existing lease.

The Brockton Clubhouse is primarily used by its members on days that sports events are held and for small gatherings and functions. After the Clubhouse was rebuilt in 1983 the Board operated a small food service concession on the ground floor of the clubhouse. Since the opening of the new Brockton Totem Poles Interpretative Centre and Gift Shop/Café in 2001 the concession has been closed.

The Society is responsible for all repairs, maintenance and utility costs for the building, which is owned by the Board. In the agreement there is a clause stating that the Society carries out a maintenance inspection of the building by a professional inspection company approved by the Board every three years and to provide copies of these reports to the Board. This has been carried out to the satisfaction of our staff.

The Society has agreed to continue to allow the general public access to the lower level and in particular to use the washrooms at times when the clubhouse is open.

SUMMARY

The lease renewal for the Brockton Pavilion Society is recommended as they have been responsible tenants, have maintained the building to a satisfactory standard at their cost, and have provided a worthwhile service to both local and visiting cricket and rugby players.
