Change in Chair

Commissioner Digby relinquished, and Commissioner Bastyovanszky assumed, the Chair.

1. Prohibition and Restriction of Motorized Personal Watercraft in Burrard Inlet

Commissioner Digby introduced the motion and responded to questions from the Board.

MOVED by Commissioner Digby
SECONDED by Commissioner Jensen

WHEREAS:

1. Vancouver's beaches and waterfront parks support significant recreational swimming and water access, particularly at Sunset Beach and English Bay;
2. English Bay, False Creek, Spanish Banks and Stanley Park waters are increasingly shared by swimmers, paddlers, recreational boating, tourism activity, and marine wildlife including whales;
3. Vancouver's urban waterfront has become significantly more crowded and complex, while recreational marine safety awareness and infrastructure have not kept pace;
4. Sunset Beach and Spanish Banks represent some of the closest points of interaction between swimmers, paddlers, high-speed personal watercraft, and recreational boating traffic within Vancouver's urban waterfront;
5. A recent incident involving a personal high-speed watercraft striking a whale near Stanley Park heightened public concern regarding swimmer safety, marine safety, and marine wildlife protection;
6. Existing marine protection efforts in Vancouver have largely focused on commercial shipping activity and port operations, while comparatively less attention has been given to recreational vessel interactions in heavily used urban swimming areas;
7. Vancouver's marine wildlife and waterfront recreation are important components of the city's tourism economy and international reputation;
8. Responsible marine operators have demonstrated that technologies such as geo-fencing, automatic speed reduction systems, and clearly defined operating boundaries can support improved marine safety outcomes;
9. Abandoned, grounded, or derelict vessels periodically affect Vancouver beaches and nearshore recreational waters, creating environmental, navigational, and public safety concerns; and
10. Authority over marine navigation and vessel regulation primarily rests with the Government of Canada, including Transport Canada and Fisheries and Oceans Canada, together with the Vancouver Fraser Port Authority and Vancouver Police Department Marine Unit.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

- A. THAT The Vancouver Board of Parks and Recreation formally adopt a policy position advocating for the prohibition or significant restriction of high-speed recreational motorized personal watercraft, including Jet Skis and Sea Doos, within Burrard Inlet and adjacent near-shore waters surrounding Vancouver parks and beaches;

- B. Park Board staff be directed to report back on measures available within Park Board jurisdiction to discourage or restrict the launching, staging, and operation of motorized personal watercraft from Park Board-managed facilities, including signage, public education, launch conditions, and potential amendments to relevant policies or permits;
- C. The Chair of the Park Board be directed to advocate to relevant federal and regional authorities, including Transport Canada, Fisheries and Oceans Canada, Vancouver Fraser Port Authority, and the Vancouver Police Department Marine Unit, for stronger regulation of motorized personal watercraft activity in Burrard Inlet in order to improve marine wildlife protection, reduce shoreline disturbance, and enhance public safety; and
- D. The Park Board further call upon senior governments and marine regulatory agencies to prioritize Burrard Inlet as an urban marine conservation and stewardship zone, recognizing its growing importance for marine biodiversity, climate resilience, and public ecological education.

CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY

3. Think Free Swim: Carrying on Joe Fortes' Legacy through Universal Access to Basic Swimming Lessons and Expansion of Aquatic Infrastructure as Core Public Safety Policy

Commissioner Virdi introduced the motion and responded to questions from the Board.

MOVED by Commissioner Virdi
SECONDED by Commissioner Jensen

WHEREAS:

1. The City of Vancouver is one of Canada's coastal and port cities, with a long-standing economic, cultural, and recreational relationship to the Pacific Ocean and its working waterfront, resulting in widespread and ongoing public exposure to aquatic environments;
2. Drowning remains a leading cause of preventable death among children and youth, and basic swimming ability is a foundational life skill essential to survival, safety, and confidence in aquatic environments;
3. The Lifesaving Society and other public safety authorities emphasize that early-stage swimming instruction, such as floating, treading water, and basic propulsion, provides the greatest reduction in drowning risk;
4. Swimming is not only a safety skill but also an important family and community activity, supporting physical health, social connection, and lifelong recreation across all ages;
5. The legacy of Joe Fortes, widely regarded as Vancouver's first official lifeguard and swimming instructor, reflects a long-standing civic commitment to ensuring residents can safely access and enjoy the city's waters;
6. Access to swimming lessons in Vancouver is constrained by both user fees and limited pool capacity, with affordability pressures disproportionately affecting families with children and newcomers;
7. The Vancouver Board of Parks and Recreation currently delivers approximately 1,133 swimming lesson programs annually across introductory levels one through three, serving approximately 6,498 participants, with associated fee revenues of approximately $420,590 per year;

8. Past and existing efforts to expand access to swimming instruction have demonstrated that partnerships between the Vancouver Board of Parks and Recreation and the Vancouver School Board can provide an effective and equitable model for broad-based delivery of introductory swimming education;
9. Municipal governments routinely invest in universal public safety infrastructure, including fire protection, transportation safety, and parks, without direct user fees, recognizing the shared societal benefit of prevention;
10. The City of Vancouver has historically adopted per-capita service benchmarks, such as parkland targets, to guide long-term infrastructure planning, and a similar approach to aquatic facilities would support equitable access across neighbourhoods;
11. The Vancouver Board of Parks and Recreation has directed staff to initiate an update to the VanSplash Aquatics Strategy, with work anticipated to conclude in early 2027, creating an opportunity to incorporate consideration of aquatic facility expansion, service level targets, and access objectives arising from this motion into that planning process prior to subsequent consideration by Council;
12. Other Canadian cities, including Toronto, Calgary, and Edmonton, have expanded free or low-cost access to recreation programming, recognizing its role in public health, safety, and affordability; and
13. Addressing both financial barriers and infrastructure capacity constraints is necessary to ensure universal access to swimming instruction.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

- A. THAT the Vancouver Board of Parks and Recreation affirm that basic swimming ability is an essential life skill and that access to introductory swimming instruction should be treated as core public safety goal;
- B. THAT Vancouver Board of Parks and Recreation direct staff to work with the City of Vancouver staff to design and implement a program providing free access to the first three levels of swimming lessons (or equivalent beginner stages) for all residents of Vancouver, with priority access for children aged 3 to 12; and
- C. THAT the Board direct staff to support Council's proposed per-capita aquatic infrastructure target (e.g., pools per 10,000 residents or equivalent service metric) to be achieved by 2035, analogous to the City's parkland provision metrics, including:
  - i. Current service levels and geographic distribution;
  - ii. Projected population growth and demand; and

- iii. Recommended targets to ensure equitable access across neighbourhoods.

Amendment to the Main Motion

FURTHER THAT the report back clearly indicate the amount of service reductions elsewhere in the Park Board system required by each option; and
- C. THAT the Board reaffirm support for the metric (swims per capita) and targets (5.0 swims per capita) for aquatic infrastructure within VanSplash (Pg.55).
